

About Cobraman:

I was bitten by a cobra snake during a field trip. My life began to drastically change when I transformed into a cobra snake. I was forced into the role of an action hero when a super villain named Zap began to slaughter cops. Due to my disability, I didn't have the confidence to stand up to Zap. I actually didn't like myself very much back then. One day my mother told me something that would change my life forever. "All you need is a little faith, hope and perseverance". That's when, I started to believe in myself and train really hard. Now, I'm a world class martial artist who represents justice, love & equality. Call me a new generation of action hero dedicated to the well being of children around the world.

Skills:

- * I have snake fangs and can spit deadly venom up to 20 feet.
- * I'm an expert in Mixed Martial Art.
- * Like a snake, I have the agility to flatten out my body to slip and slither between cracks, creases & grooves.
- * My eyes glow and I HISS when confronted with adversity.

SAY NO TO BULLYING

Cobraman's "Pledge to Peer"

I promise not to bully.

I promise not to hit.

Right is right, wrong is wrong, this I will admit.

Black, white, lame or blind, together we band.

Through thick and thin, hand and hand, united in love I stand.
